People's Bank Plans Open House

The official open house of the People's Bank building on Claxton Avenue will be held this Sunday afternoon from 1:30 until 4:30. The public is invited to visit the new, enlarged facilities of the bank. Refreshments will be served and entertainment will be available for the children.

The bank building includes additional drive-in tellers, a huge lobby, larger, improved teller area, loan offices and bookkeeping facilities. A highlight of the new bank building is a large community room that will be available for meetings by area civic groups. This room is a must visit for all and should be required of Elba school history students. It is decorated on three walls with "The History of Elba" in huge paintings that have been painstakingly researched for accurate detail and fact. The parking lot is also designed to better serve the banking customers of The People's Bank.

Commissioners Vote To Change Law, Build Jail In New Brockton

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, Dec. 14 at the courthouse in Enterprise and adopted yet another plan to satisfy the demands of both state and federal court orders concerning the jail situation in Coffee County.

Monday's meeting began at 9 a.m. with all commissioners present. Present were Gilmer Grant, Billy Eagerton, Rex Boutwell, Charlie Mack Martin, Eugene Bradley, and Marvin Bowden, along with Chairman James L. Sawyer and Clerk Brunese Winston.

The day's first order of business was to open bids on equipment for the County Highway Department—a bulldozer and a pickup truck. Bids on the bulldozer came from Joe Moorer Machinery—$33,000; Jeffcoat Equipment—$32,499; $40,299 and $57,499 on three separate machines; Leary & Owens—$42,960; Burford Equipment—$46,759; and Tractor & Equipment Company—$38,000. The county engineer examined the bids and reported a bid from Jeffcoat Equipment was low, however, a representative of another bidder declared the low bid was on a machine that did not meet all the specifications, and a lengthy discussion took place. When it became obvious no decision would be reached, the commission voted 4-2 to table the matter (voting no were Bradley and Bowden).

The awarding of a contract for a pickup proved far less controversial, as only two bids were received. Bids were from Cook Chevrolet—$7,934.11 and Ray Hughes Chevrolet—$8,573.83, and the commission voted unanimously to accept the low bid from Cook Chevrolet.

Probate Judge James L. Sawyer passed out copies of an attorney general's opinion of the legality of his receiving an expense account as chairman of the commission. The expense account's legality was questioned several weeks ago, but the attorney general's opinion was that it is legal.

"The expense account in question is not uncommon," stated Sawyer, "but the question did arise in Coffee County about its legality. The attorney general said it is legal, and I am glad to clear the record and clear my good name. That is not the way I do business."

County Attorney Warren Rowe was next to address the commission, and he reminded the board they had 90 days from the date of the contempt ruling to answer the court order (March 7). He stated he hoped the sales tax referendum would be voted on March 2, giving the commission five days to make final plans.

"On December 29," added Rowe, "I must be in federal court in Montgomery to answer the federal law suit. I guess everybody knows we are looking at building two jails, and the cost will be prohibitive. I have filed a motion of dismissal in the case, and we will find out then how we stand. I cannot represent the sheriff in the suit; he has gone on record as being opposed to the plans of the commission and I just can't defend him and you both. The law does allow the commission to pay outside legal fees for the sheriff, and he has already contacted another attorney. In the past, I have defended Sheriff Paul, but in this instance there is no way I can defend him."

The commission discussed paying the sheriff's legal fees, but stated the law said "they could," not that they had to. It was also brought up that the attorney chosen by Sheriff Paul was representing two county residents in a suit against the commission, and the commission took no action on whether or not it would pay Sheriff Paul's legal expenses.

Commissioner Marvin Bowden offered a resolution that he stated "would solve the county's jail woes." The resolution called for the commission to buy 5-10 acres in a north industrial park in Enterprise and build a suitable jail to meet the needs of Coffee County. Commissioner Bradley seconded the motion, but it was defeated by a vote of 4-2 (Bradley and Bowden cast the only affirmative votes).

Commissioner Billy Eagerton then offered his own plan at solving both jail suits. He read a resolution asking the county legislators to introduce an act that would do three things—1, abolish the act requiring a jail to be built in Enterprise; 2, abolish the act requiring a jail be maintained in the county seat and 3, allow the commission to build a new jail in New Brockton. The resolution also stated the bill be advertised this week so it could be introduced to the state legislature on January 15 and become law by January 20. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Grant and it passed by a vote of 5-1 (the lone no vote was by Marvin Bowden).

County Attorney Warren Rowe explained there would be two separate acts involved—the proposed sales tax and Eagerton's motion. "There will be no need to vote on the plan introduced by Commissioner Eagerton," said Rowe, "all it needs is a legislative act to change the law."

The new jail would be built large enough to meet the needs of the county, and while a 40-man jail is the size most often mentioned, at least two commissioners hinted the new jail would be no larger than 15-20 prisoner capacity. The smaller size would reportedly be plenty big enough to house county prisoners, but not state inmates. The proposed jail could be built on a 38-acre lot of county owned land adjacent to the Farm Center Complex, however, a previous plan to renovate the Farm Center into a jail was mentioned and Commissioner Eagerton stated the plan was "indeed feasible."

Mr. Roy King of Elba met with the commission and voiced a complaint about the sheriff's department. King stated he had a burglary at his home back in July and over $4,000 in guns were taken, but when he contacted Sheriff Paul, he was told all his deputies put in 40-hour work weeks, and he didn't have an investigator. Mr. King stated he employed a detective at his own expense and also bought a trained guard dog.

"I don't make enough money to go out and hire a detective," said King. "I did because I want my guns back. They hold priceless sentimental value and I want them back. The detective and myself have put in long hours running down leads and a man is now in jail who is a suspect. However, the sheriff maintains he hasn't the time to do the investigation and keeps saying maybe they'll show up one day in the computer. That may take years. I think it is the sheriff department's business to investigate my robbery."

King added he had called the attorney general's office and was told to meet with the county commission. "I don't know where else to go," said King.

The commission informed King they couldn't tell Sheriff Paul how to run his office because he was elected by the people. They did agree to call in the sheriff and question him on the matter. Sheriff Paul came to the afternoon session of the meeting, and when told of King's complaint, admitted, "There is a lot of truth in what he says, but it is a product of the 40 hour work week. When a crime occurs, a deputy does an initial investigation and files a report, and then when we have time we check into the matter further. In the past 14 days approximately $10,000 in goods and livestock have been stolen and when our new patrol cars arrive I'll put Dep. Dennis Hobbs back to work as an investigator. It will put our department further behind in delivering papers, but we're already two months behind, so, I guess it won't kill us. We have already cut down a lot of services to the people that they deserve to have, but we're doing the best we can. There is only so much you can do in a 40 hour week."

Comm. Rex Boutwell stated, "I want the people to know it wasn't the commission who got the 40 hour week passed, it was the Sheriff's Association." Sheriff Paul replied, "No, it was the Deputy Sheriff's Association." And Boutwell said, "Well, the sheriffs sure helped them out!"

Before leaving, Paul reported he was making changes at the jail to better serve the inmates and make the building look better.

In other action at Monday's meeting the commission:

voted to appoint Victor Martin to replace Walter P. Lunford on the Tabernacle-Clintonville Water Authority Board;

concurred with an A-95 Review (a request for federal funding, in the amount of $287,719 for the Southeast Alabama Health Systems Agency;

instructed County Engineer Charles Bowden to interview three applicants for the position of shop foreman and make a recommendation; adopted the county financial statement for October 1980 through September 1981;

agreed to send out invitations to bid on three garbage trucks owned by the county, and to open the bids on December 28;

adopted a resolution to amend the minutes of the November 23 meeting and add to it amendments to an earlier sales tax resolution;

voted to pay a deposit for water hook-up at the voting house in Beat 22;

add a county resident it would not give him a guarantee in writing that a dirt road would not be closed, but assured him the road was a public road and would be worked and kept open;

accepted Judge Eris Paul's law library and some personal office equipment for use as a county law library;

and, adjourned until Friday, Dec. 18, at 9:00 a.m.

AG Warns Of

Door-To-Door

Sales

Consumers should be cautious in door-to-door sales and solicitations during the Christmas season, Attorney General Charles A. Graddick warns.

When shopping in the convenience of your home, exercise care and keep a few tips in mind. Inspect each gift thoroughly before purchasing. Compare prices and check for similar merchandise at your local merchant. "Many consumers find identical items in their local retail stores and exchanging items after Christmas is much easier," Graddick said.

According to the attorney general, if you sign a purchase agreement in your home or anywhere other than the seller's place of business, you have three days in which to cancel the agreement if you change your mind. "Make sure you cancel the order in writing within 72 hours, and the company must refund any deposit you put on the merchandise," Graddick said.

The attorney general's Consumer Protection Division also urges consumers to be aware of charities which may be collecting during the holiday season. Before you give, ask questions about the charity and how the money will be spent. "Make sure the money you give is actually going to help someone else have a better holiday and not into the collector's pocket," Graddick warns.

For additional information on these and other holiday tips, contact the attorney general's Office of Consumer Protection toll free at 1-800-392-5658.

Elba City Council Supports

911 Emergency Telephone Calls

The Elba City Council heard Coffee County native Dan Cowen explain the advantages of 911 emergency numbers at the council meeting recently. Cowen is presently working with General Telephone Company and lives in Durham, North Carolina.

Following the presentation by Cowen, who appeared at the request of Elba Mayor Bob English, the council voted unanimously to request the telephone company to install the system in Elba.

Cowen estimated it would take at least eighteen months to complete the installation of the highly technical equipment. When it is completed, all emergency calls for fire, police, or rescue squads can be reached by dialing the number 911. Cowen said that the ultimate goal is to have this system installed nationwide.

Brainstorms

By FERRIN COX

Federal Judge Varner is thinning out the jail and prison population again with his order to release 352 inmates because of overcrowding. The list includes several listed as inmates in the Coffee County jail and at least one at the work release center. However, even with the recent action by the federal judge, the problems facing Coffee County have not gone away or even diminished in size. The elected officials and voters of the county are still faced with a federal suit on jail conditions in the Elba jail and a state suit to build a jail in Enterprise.

We read that Auburn University officials are considering a rule that requires all university officials to report any conversations they have with the media. Well, we don't expect the proposal to become an official rule for several reasons. First and foremost, it ain't legal and another is that it is completely unenforceable. We can understand the frustrations key officials have when embarrassing news (true or false) hits the news, but that must be accepted as an identifying mark of any truly democratic society.

The People's Bank has scheduled their long anticipated move into new quarters for Sunday afternoon. They have taken the old Piggly Wiggly building and done a masterful job-it ain't disguised into being a bank; it was transformed into a bank! We have slipped in on several occasions to view the progress and have on several occasions demanded reasons for some of the design decisions, and each time we were satisfied with the answer. One night last week we ole editor stopped bank president Lamar Rafter from hanging pictures and questioned several points of fact with him on the unique "History of Elba" painted on the walls of the large community room near the front of the bank. True to form he had a good answer for each of our questions, and we departed with a lame excuse about our narrow mind and inability to understand without questions. We congratulate Lamar Rafter and all the folks at the People's Bank for making their little of the world look a little nicer.

Leroy Miller has officially closed one of Elba's oldest businesses. The firm of C. O. Miller & Son is no longer in business for the first time since 1921. Leroy cited health problems for his desire to retire and has now begun closing out all his equipment and gas tanks. Here is another Elba landmark we are going to miss.

The Elba downtown merchants have announced their plans for additional business hours to better accommodate the Christmas shoppers. In a half page at this week, they are advertising late Friday night hours and a one time Sunday afternoon event in an effort to serve the folks who want to shop in Elba. We urge you to consider the hometown merchant before jumping in that old gas hog and driving around the world for a "bargain." With the downtown merchants adding extra hours and the shopping center merchants doing the same thing for the holidays, any area shopper should be able to find stores open whenever shopping is planned.

The latest move on the county jail problem shapes up like this: On January 15, 1982, Representative Jimmy Holley has agreed to introduce a local bill to eliminate the law requiring a jail in both Enterprise and Elba and to allow one in New Brockton. Senator Wallace Miller has agreed to carry this bill through the Senate after it passes the House. They expect this to be completed in about a week and ready to present to both state and federal judges. Then to remove any question on legality, they plan to pass constitutional amendments (voted by the p.c. of Alabama). The latter will take six or eight months, but the direction will already be to one jail rather than the present law requiring two.

Azalea Club Makes Gifts For Residents

The fall meetings of the Azalea Garden Club followed the established custom of the past few years in that the club members devoted those meetings to making Christmas gifts for the residents of the Elba Nursing Home.

In November, Mrs. Lloyd Crook, Mrs. Walter Cox, Mrs. Nellie Martin and Miss Gladys Clark, hosted a workshop luncheon at the Methodist Church's educational building, Mrs. D. Hildreth Cooper, chairman of the Christmas Projects Committee, instructed members in the construction of pine cone Christmas trees.

In December Mrs. Oscar Vaughan, Jr., Mrs. Baxter Bryan, Mrs. Earl Peters and Mrs. D. Hildreth Cooper were in charge of the club's annual party at the nursing home. Residents were presented with their miniature trees and served refreshments from a gaily decorated table.

LADIES FROM the Azalea Garden Club gathered at the Elba Nursing Home Wednesday, Dec. 9 for their annual Christmas party for the residents. Shown above are some of the ladies who participated.

The sunporch was a picture of Christmas with the tree was the centerpiece of attention, with lovely handmade ornaments and presents under the tree.

The fireplace was blazing cozily with a yule fire and the mantle was decorated with red and green candles and an arrangement of red berries in an antique copper pitcher.

The guests enjoyed a delightful social period and then were invited to partake of a delicious meal of sausage-egg casserole, Creole grits, fruit compote, miniature butter rolls and home-made jelly and coffee.

Miss Tatom presented her attendants with lovely gifts of hand-painted china. The hostesses presented the bride-elect with a gift of silver ice tongs.

Teresa Tatom—Christopher Pinson United In Marriage

Miss Teresa Tatom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tatom, and Mr. Christopher Pinson, son of Mrs. Mary T. Pinson of Rochester, New Hampshire, were united in holy matrimony at seven o'clock in the evening on Friday, Dec. 4, at the Elba United Methodist Church in a ceremony performed by Rev. John C. Carmichael.

To mark the wedding hour, Tommy Tatom, brother of the bride, and Mark Vaughan, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles in the sanctuary.

The central feature of the church decorations was a pair of brass altar vases which were placed on tall pedestals on either side of the altar. They were filled with deep pink cabbage roses, pink and lavender snapdragons, dwarf poinsettias, crabsapple buds and interspersed with leatherleaves ferns.

On each end of the communion rail was a massive arrangement of polished green aspidistra leaves from which rose a triple wooden spindle candelabra of pure white. The cross at the rear of the choir loft was accented by similar arrangements of candelabra and leaves. A wooden spindle candelabrum holding 17 white candles centered the choir loft and was flanked on each side by matching arrangements.

Mrs. Kenneth Baker, organist, played traditional wedding music. Mr. George Dorsey, of Winnterville, Ga., sang "The Wedding Song" and "My Tribute," accompanied by Mrs. Baker.

The brides and groom, dressed in white, were escorted by their fathers, who were wearing white tuxedos with white bow ties. The bride's train was a simple, elegant affair, and the groom's was a simple, elegant affair.

The tables were set with lovely Christmas linens and Christmas china. Each place at the bride's table was marked with hand-painted ceramic place cards. At each place were small containers filled with red berries and baby's breath with miniature bride and groom in the arrangement.

chiffon caplets. They carried nosegays of burgundy, white and shades of pink silk flowers. Baby's breath and greenery completed the bouquets.

The groom was attended by Jeff Hodges, of Montgomery, as best man, and Tommy Tatom, brother of the bride, of Elba. Ushers in attendance were Mark Vaughan and David Stokes of Elba, cousins of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tatom wore a gown of mauve chiffon overlaid with an elegantly flowing, accented-pleated cape that came to points in front and back and was centered at the neckline with a full blown silk rose of the same shade. The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Fred Tatom, chose a soft crepe dress of deeper lavender.

Guests were registered by Miss Holly Vaughan, of Elba, cousin of the bride.

After the wedding, the bride's parents entertained at a reception in their home.

Mrs. Bill Stokes and Mrs. Jack Vaughan, aunts of the bride, greeted the guests at the door, which was hung with white wedding bells, white doves, greenery and velvet streamers.

Others assisting at the reception were: Mrs. Ray Metcalf of Enterprise; Mrs. Oscar Vaughan, Jr., and Mrs. Fred Young, Mrs. Joe Meacham, and Mrs. Wayne Sharpless.

The bride's table, was draped in pale pink and covered with an imported handcut Irish crocheted linen cloth centered with a traditional 3-tiered wedding cake. A pair of silver five-branched candelabra held white candles and bouquets of delicate pink carnations and baby's breath. Silver trays held Mrs. Dennis Lawford and Miss Jo Ruth Kendrick.

Guests were directed from the bride's table to a refreshment area provided in the playground, by Mrs. Mark Vaughan, Mrs. David Stokes and Mrs. Conie Mac Darnell, cousins of the bride. The game table was draped in linen and lace and was centered with a ceiling tall arrangement of purple dawn camellias, Miss Barbara Tatom, of Tuscaloosa, and Mrs. Walter Hinz of Delray, Fla., cousins of the bride, served punch from a silver punch service. A champagne fountain, silver chafing dishes and trays held many assorted party foods. Guests were invited to a room where the wedding gifts were displayed.

Rice bags were passed among the guests by little Miss Anna Stokes, Master Kevin Lawford and Master Jake Stokes, cousins of the bride.

Later in the evening, the bride couple left for a honeymoon weekend at Gantt, Ala., at the lakeside cottage of the bride's parents. The bride wore a purple wool suit with matching blouse. They are at home now in Montgomery.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Durward Tatom, of Banks, Ala.; Mr. Mike Tatom and Mr. Mark Tatom of Troy; Mrs. Wendis Morrow and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Metcalf of Enterprise; Mr. and Mrs. Gladys Sawyer of New Brockton; Mrs. Charlie Gungles, Mrs. John W. McMin, Mrs. Joe Benton and Mrs. Hazel B. Jackson, of Opper; Mrs. W. J. Nelson of Fairhope, Ala.; Mrs. Ron Scott of Harrison, Tenn.; Miss Patti Smith, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Radomski of Miami Lakes, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hinz of Delray, Fla.; Mrs. Roy Miller of Deer Park, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. David Grant of Wetumpka, Ala.; Miss Cheryl Nichols of Mobile; Mrs. Jeff Hodges, Mr. James Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin James, Mrs. Jan Law, Miss Diane Jacoby, Miss Kim Tillery, Miss Mizi Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Conie Mac Darnell of Montgomery.

LINEN SHOWER On November 11, at 7:00 in the evening, Mrs. Mace Cook and Mrs. James Rogers, both of Montgomery, were hostesses to a linen shower honoring Miss Teresa Tatom, bride-elect of Mr. Christopher Pinson.

The party was held in the lovely home of Mrs. Cook, with her daughters, Sherry and Karen, assisting. A delicious assortment of party foods was served buffet style to the guests who were friends and fellow employees, all from Montgomery.

The hostesses presented Miss Tatom with a beautiful towel set.

A lavish buffet of smoked turkey and ham, vegetables, salads and sweets were offered after which guests were seated at tables overlaid with Christmas cloths and centered with an array of Christmas candles. Mr. Pinson later presented his groomsmen with gifts.

Thirty-seven members of the wedding party, friends and relatives enjoyed this delightful pre-nuptial party with the hosts and honored couple.

Brilliant red Christmas decorations were aglow throughout the house. Upon arrival at the Vaughns' home, guests were invited into the living room and den where Christmas punch and glasses of red wine were served from a brass punch service.

As the two hundred guests approached the Christmas motif was everywhere—and lent itself artistically, giving a feeling of Christmas joy, cheer and happiness, even if it was a typical winter's day.

Jennifer Young Brunson greeted the guests and extended a cordial and friendly welcome. Flaming red poinsettias were banked in focal places of interest. Their beauty and color radiated warmth throughout the foyer, making the entrance somewhat gay, spirited and lively.

However, the circular stairway was entwined with variegated beige and green garlands and accented by golden velvet bows, which added charm and attractiveness.

In the recessed alcove a majestic pedestal supported an elegant footed silver bowl, containing Christmas punch. The shining silver cups enhanced its beauty in a unique setting. The vivacious Candace Vaughan held this party with poise and favor.

Colorful Christmas tea napkins were nestled in a swinging red and green macramé labelle.

The dining table was dressed in an icy white cutwork of lace linen cloth. A floral Christmas runner crisscrossed the table adding to the favorable green candles that held the spot of interest. The majestic tea service was attended by the fashionably dressed Mrs. Sylvia Padgett. Large silver trays were crowded on the table and buffet heaped with many different kinds of party dainties.

Mrs. Mary Young, Mrs. Lily Williams, Mrs. Jean Vaughan, and Mrs. Nellie English were kept quite busy replenishing the trays.

The spaciousness of Mrs. Young's house gave ample room for socializing and enjoyment. Each room was appropriately decorated for the Christmas season. Cleverness and originality were evident in her artistic taste and arrangements.

To complete this thoughtful and enjoyable affair was a special guest, Mrs. Willie Rowell Padgett, Mary's mother.

Beauty, merriment, fellowship, friendship, elegance, and entertainment were evident. However, from observation during the party hours, one could readily see the meaning of an old fashioned Christmas on this dark and drizzly Saturday, Dec. 12.

However, this large assembly of Elba ladies were most appreciative of Mrs. Vaughan and Mrs. Young's hospitality.

The Best Thing
The first thing I said to him was, I'm sorry.
And when people talk don't worry.
They don't know all the facts.
All they see is the way we act.
Having part of someone isn't always best.
Especially when you want all the rest.
Some people love only once.
Other people thrive on romance.
Experience is the best teacher, they say.
But what if you're not sure you went the right way?
If it's supposed to be the right thing to do.
Why does it hurt so much when I think of you?
When I think of all the great times we shared.
I know now why you always cared.
Those memories will always be dear to me.
To remind me of the love that could never be.
By now I suppose you're wondering how all these things could be.
Well, you see, I know, because I just said goodbye.
The best thing that ever happened to me.

DMSO Is Controversial

BY: JUDY HELMS

Controversy rages over use of solvent on athletes around the world. DMSO has been touted as the next wonder drug by some members of the athletic community who say it is a panacea for injuries ranging from a sprained ankle to tendinitis.

The greatest source of controversy about DMSO stems from the fact that it acts differently on different individuals. DMSO is even unpredictable when used by the same person. It may relieve pain one week and fail to do so the next.

However, despite its fickle characteristics, a few things are certain about DMSO. It's a mysterious, complicated drug that gives the user body odor and terrible breath. And it's banned for medical use by the Food and Drug Administration.

Any physician, coach, or trainer who recommends the use of DMSO in a state where it is not legal for treatment is leaving him open to legal action.

DMSO is certainly an unauthorized drug, and its therapeutic effects are controversial. Considering the unpredictability of the drug, a coach's or trainer's only alternative is to keep DMSO out of their training and locker rooms and to keep it in plain or other solvents where it belongs.

Zion Chapel High School has chosen their class favorites for this school year. Two or three favorites were chosen from the seventh through the twelfth grades. From the seventh grade the favorites chosen were Gail McHaffey and Davy Bryan; eighth grade Denise Chancellor and Richie Rugg; ninth grade Wendy Nelson, Veda Johnson, and David McCarroll; tenth grade Craig Flowers and Sharon Mobley; eleventh grade Kevin Flowers, Lauri Doster, and Donna Foley; twelfth grade Jeff Amalong, Pam Calhoun, and Judy Helms. The favorites were chosen by a vote of their class.

Family Living Class Has Wedding Class Rings

BY: LISA TAYLOR

As a climax to the study of the preparation for marriage, a wedding ceremony was held in the family living class. Rev. Larry Doster visited the class the day before the ceremony to discuss marital counseling with the group. The class selected the wedding party. Marie Flowers and Bobby Price were the bride and groom. The maid of honor was Vanessa Kelley, best man was Randy White, and the bridesmaids were Jody Carney and NayDean Wheeler. The ushers were Jeff Senn and Mathew Willoughby. Beverly Davis and Jacob McDonald acted as the bride's parents while Lisa Taylor and Kim Ellis were the groom's parents.

For the reception, planned by Brenda Davis and Kellie Sheffield, were cake and punch. These wedding activities were planned to help the students realize the seriousness of marriage vows and to gain a better understanding of our wedding customs and how they originated.

Each ring ordered was a reflection of that person's own personality. The Bachelor Ring Company helped each individual select a ring that was right for them.

Juniors Get Class Rings

BY: TERRI CARTER

There are several big events that occur during one's junior year in high school, but the only one more anticipated than the Prom is the day classes arrive. Last week that "red letter" day, December 9, 1981, was finally experienced—class rings came.

Each ring ordered was a reflection of that person's own personality. The Bachelor Ring Company helped each individual select a ring that was right for them.

Giving Is Essential To Friends

BY: MELISSA NORMAN

"To have a friend is to be a friend," this well-known statement is true, but how does one go about being a friend?

Many people believe that sharing interests or opinions is the foundation of friendship, while others base relationships upon the idea that having certain friends can increase one's popularity. However, a true friendship does not rely on either of these ideas. One should not select his associates on the basis of the benefits that may be received from such an association, but rather on what can be contributed to another person's life.

The essential element of friendship is giving. The most valuable gifts from one friend to another include concern, understanding, respect, dependability, honesty, affection, and sometimes even criticism. Actually, these gifts are loaned because a friend always returns them with interest.

Once a friendship is born, it must be fed and protected. It is a delicate baby, but when nurtured, it grows and matures. No relationship can survive if it is neglected. Like an antique vase, friendship becomes more valuable with time. If handled carefully, the priceless vase shatters and can never be repaired.

Although it is a treasure that is never displayed in a museum, friendship is more valuable than even the most radiant jewel, the most ancient mummy, or the most brilliant crown, for it is a gift that money can never buy.

Angie Holt, chairman of the Teacher Appreciation Day, gave a report on the upcoming event. Some suggestions were made to improve the appreciation day. The meeting was adjourned until next month.

Beta Club Meeting

The Elba High School Chapter of the National Beta Club held its monthly meeting in the auditorium Thursday, December 10. President Julie Maudlin called the meeting to order. Business included arrangements for members to work in the concession stand during the basketball games. Then Rick Sandretto from the admissions office at Troy State University gave information about the University. He included housing, scholarships, financial aid, tuition, and many other areas of college life in his discussion. The meeting was open to anyone who desired information about Troy State.

club as the season rolls along.

Kinston has as much talent as any 1A team in the area and has the potential to make another run at a state championship. The Bulldogs are a little thin on the bench, a possible fatal flaw, but they can run, shoot and play defense as well as anyone. If the players are willing to work hard and give 100% on each and every night they will post a bunch of wins. Their potential is unlimited.

Dr. Nassium, the Clipper's resident roundball expert, didn't get to see many games last week, but he did watch New Hope Junior High play and said they have one of their best teams ever. That's saying something up at New Hope, because the Wildcats are always big winners!

Now it's time to take a look at this week's Clipper Poll...

I got a chance to see Elba, New Brockton, Zion Chapel and Kinston last week, so this week's trip around the county will be from first hand knowledge.

New Brockton is loaded with quickness, enough for more than one team, and if the Gamecocks can get their shots to fall they'll be mighty hard to beat. Brockton has a good defense, but may be a little too wild offensively to score enough points to win consistently. Oh well, the season is young and the teamwork will come with experience.

Zion Chapel has a well-coached club that is very capable of pulling an upset on any night. The Rebs have enough good players to win, but seem to lack the team speed and ball handling needed to be consistent winners. Don't get me wrong, though, Zion Chapel could develop into a mighty fine team. The Goshen Eagles combined a fast paced offense with a deadly touch from the free-throw line and rolled to a win 82-70 over the Elba Tigers last Thursday night in Elba.

Bobby Guiley scored on a lay-up after the opening tip to put Elba on top 2-0, but Goshen reeled off six straight points to grab a 6-2 lead and the Elba Tigers had to lead for good! Goshen hit on 14 of 16 free-throws in the opening stanza and led 22-18 after one quarter of play. Elba pulled within 2 points at 23-21 early in the second quarter, but Goshen again got cranked up and poured in 9 unanswered points to move ahead 32-21. A quick 6 point run by the Tigers got Elba back in the game, however, by halftime Goshen had stretched its lead back out to 8 points at 40-32.

Ted Horstead scored 22 points to lead Elba, while Jerry Siler added 11.

Elba came out fired up in the third stanza at 40-37, only to watch as the Eagles responded with 10 unanswered points to grab a commanding 50-37 bulge. Goshen then let everyone get into the act as they claimed their first win of the season.

Donnie Morris scored 13 points to lead Elba, while Jerry Siler added 10 and Ruben McKinnon 10. Also scoring were Maurice Ellard and Johnny Daniels 4. Scoring for Goshen were Cummings 2, Ellis 2, Simmons 8, McClain 4 and Brundage 4.

Elba Lady Tigers Fall To Goshen

The Elba Lady Tigers got off to a slow start and could never catch up as they fell to Goshen 42-26 last Thursday night in Elba.

The win upped Goshen's record to 2-1, while the loss dropped Elba's slate to 1-2.

Goshen came out running and jumped into an early 8-0 lead, and by the end of the half had pulled ahead 21-8.

The Lady Tigers used an aggressive full-court press in the third quarter and pulled within 4 points at 23-19, however, Goshen came back strong in the final stanza and broke to the win.

Wanda Johnson scored 10 points to lead Elba, while Patricia Daniels and Cara Horstead added 6 each, and Mandy Marier and Diane Hall both scored 2. Scoring for Goshen were Williams 19, Jones 16, Lamar 4, Jeffcoat 2 and McCloud 1.

Brockton Pulls Away Late To Edge Elba

The Elba Tigers staged a furious fourth quarter rally, but hit on only 11 of 24 free-throws in the stanza, and fell short as they lost to New Brockton 65-60, last Tuesday night at New Brockton.

New Brockton came out running and gunning in the contest and jumped out to a quick 10-4 lead behind the shooting of Ricky Purvis. Brockton's lead grew to 18-8 early in the second quarter and it looked like the Gamecocks might be ready to run away with an easy win, but Elba hung tough and sparked by the shooting of Ted Horstead the Tigers rallied to pull within 29-23 at the half.

Bobby Guiley and Ted Horstead came out firing in the third quarter and Elba went on a tear as they caught Brockton at 33-33 with 4:49 left in the stanza. The Tigers' shooting touch went ice cold after they pulled into a tie, however, and Elba went 4-45 without scoring another point as New Brockton regained the lead at 45-33. Elba gain refused to buckle and slowly fought back, pulling within 58-54 with 1:30 left in the game. The Tigers had chances to catch the Gamecocks in the closing minute, but hit only 4 of 14 free-throws in the waning seconds and lost 65-60.

Bobby Guiley scored 22 points to lead Elba, while Dwayne Hooks added 14. Ricky Purvis and Joseph Burrows scored 22 and 20 to pace Brockton.

N.B. (65): Purvis 22, Cooper 2, Burrows 20, Smith 4, Foster 8, Terry 4, Johnson 2.

Elba (60): B. Daniels 2, Guiley 22, Hooks 14, Horstead 9, T. Daniels 4, J. Hooks 8, K. Daniels 2, Henderson 1.

B GAME
The New Brockton B team led all the way to crush Elba 62-30. Scoring for Elba were Ellard 4, Siler 10, McKinnon 8, Folmar 2, Bowers 6.

Scoring for New Brockton were Fleming 2, D. Head 14, Horstead 11, Nelson 14, Haggan 15, Creel 2, and K. Head 2.

One thing I have noticed this season is that all the cheerleaders are really filled with spirit. Every game I go to the cheerleaders are constantly yelling for their team and trying to get the crowd fired up. It also seems that every squad is more acrobatic than ever, as all the squads build pyramids and do tumbling routines. Good work, gals, you're looking better than ever.

The prep football season is over and it's time for all the All-Star teams to be announced. I'm sure players from Northview, Eufaula, Daleville and Hazlewood (state champions) will make the squads, as well as a few local players. Keep watch, the lists may include someone you know.

I was finally getting in the Christmas spirit last week after feeling like Scrooge for quite some time, and while Christmas shopping Saturday I even jammed a carol or two. However, my spirit was soon deflated! On Saturday night the one of Daleville's open weeks because they needed a game for their homecoming. As for our schedule next year, Daleville will play Elba, Opp, Andalusia, and Troy.

Daleville High School is a 3A school. It is one of the smallest 3A schools in Alabama. At the present time, we have a total of 292 students in grades 10-12. Technically, this makes Daleville a 2A school. In 1980 when the last official count was made to determine our school's status, we had 34 students too many to qualify as a 2A school. The 1981 Daleville football team posted a 9-1 record. This was the best recorded in the history of the school. We at Daleville are very proud of our football team and our coaches. This year's season instilled a pride in everyone ranging from the mayor down to the elementary students.

Frankly, Mr. Mularz, I cannot see what you hoped to gain by writing an article that attacked and ridiculed our football team, our season, and our pride. If your intent was to take away from the fine season that our football team had and to destroy our pride, then I am proud to tell you that you have failed. Daleville High School, along with the city of Daleville, will always remember the 1981 football season with pride because it truly was "the year of the Hawk!"

Sincerely yours,
Mike Zierba

Daleville Warhawks

What do the games the Warhawks played in 1978 and 1979 have to do with their present status? Since those years we have obtained a new coaching staff and different team members. The 1981 Warhawks are a totally different football team.

I realize that the 1980 and 1981 football schedules were not as tough as some teams. However, these schedules were made out two to three years in advance. This year we had two or three dates to fill. Our coach tried to schedule games with some tougher opponents but the best he could get was Greenville. (a team that made it to the playoffs), and Vernon, Fla., (a Florida playoff team in 1980). You also did not like the fact that we played Clio in 1979. Clio was not a regularly scheduled game. Clio asked Daleville to play them during one of Daleville's open weeks because they needed a game for their homecoming. As for our schedule next year, Daleville will play Elba, Opp, Andalusia, and Troy.

As for our schedule next year, Daleville will play Elba, Opp, Andalusia, and Troy.

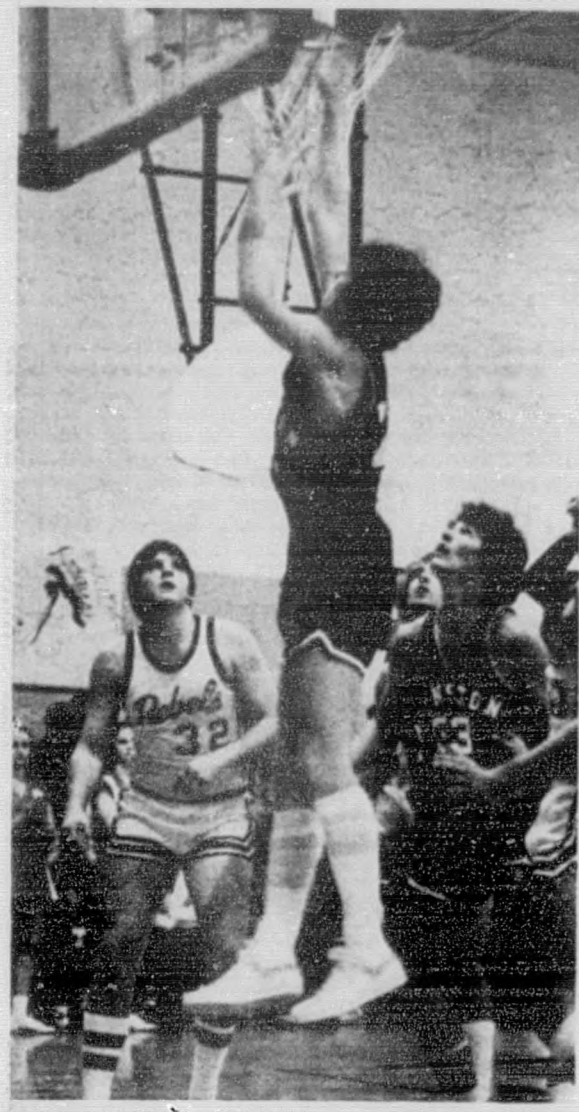

Daleville High School is a 3A school. It is one of the smallest 3A schools in Alabama. At the present time, we have a total of 292 students in grades 10-12. Technically, this makes Daleville a 2A school. In 1980 when the last official count was made to determine our school's status, we had 34 students too many to qualify as a 2A school. The 1981 Daleville football team posted a 9-1 record. This was the best recorded in the history of the school. We at Daleville are very proud of our football team and our coaches. This year's season instilled a pride in everyone ranging from the mayor down to the elementary students.

Frankly, Mr. Mularz, I cannot see what you hoped to gain by writing an article that attacked and ridiculed our football team, our season, and our pride. If your intent was to take away from the fine season that our football team had and to destroy our pride, then I am proud to tell you that you have failed. Daleville High School, along with the city of Daleville, will always remember the 1981 football season with pride because it truly was "the year of the Hawk!"

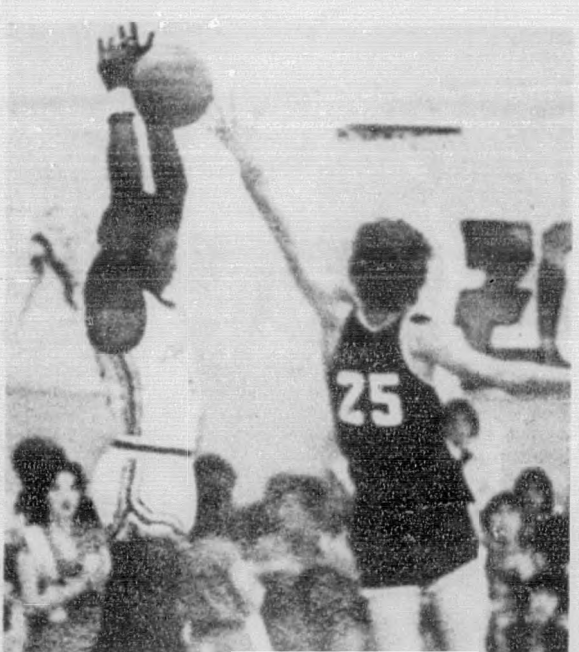

Sincerely yours,
Mike Zierba

Daleville Warhawks

What do the games the Warhawks played in 1978 and 1979 have to do with their present status? Since those years we have obtained a new coaching staff and different team members. The 1981 Warhawks are a totally different football team.

I realize that the 1980 and 1981 football schedules were not as tough as some teams. However, these schedules were made out two to three years in advance. This year we had two or three dates to fill. Our coach tried to schedule games with some tougher opponents but the best he could get was Greenville. (a team that made it to the playoffs), and Vernon, Fla., (a Florida playoff team in 1980). You also did not like the fact that we played Clio in 1979. Clio was not a regularly scheduled game. Clio asked Daleville to play them during one of Daleville's open weeks because they needed a game for their homecoming. As for our

Bulldogs Cruise Past Zion Chapel Rebels

The Kinston Bulldogs jumped out to a 19-point lead in the second quarter and breezed to a lopsided 78-53 win over Zion Chapel in the initial meeting this season of Coffee County's two Class A rivals.

The win upped Kinston's record to 6-2, while the loss dropped Zion Chapel's slate to 1-3.

Kinston came out in a sticky full-court press and jumped into a 6-0 lead before the Rebels could cross mid-court. Zion Chapel got on the board midway through the opening stanza, but the Bulldogs pulled away to a 13-2 bulge with 4:47 left in the quarter and by the end of the quarter Kinston owned a huge 26-9 advantage. Zion Chapel scored two quick buckets to open the second stanza to cut the lead to 26-13, but Kinston answered with six unanswered points to take their biggest lead of the half at 32-13 with 4:14 left in the second quarter. The Rebels refused to quit, however, and battled back late in the half to pull within 38-27 at intermission.

Zion Chapel got as close as 38-29 early in the third quarter, only to again have trouble breaking the Kinston press late in the period, enabling the Bulldogs to take command at 57-41 going into the fourth stanza. The final quarter was totally dominated by the defending state champs, as both coaches emptied their bench, and the Bulldogs held on for the big 78-53 victory.

Curtis Lane scored 34 points to lead Kinston to the win, while Zion Chapel's Jeff Senn scored 20 to pace the Rebels.

Bulldogs Rally To Nip Coffee Springs 73-71

The Kinston Bulldogs rallied from an 18-point half-time deficit to post an exciting 73-71 win over the Coffee Springs Golden Bears last week in Coffee Springs.

The Golden Bears came out red-hot in the game and stunned Kinston by pulling out to a 26-16 lead after one quarter of play. Coffee Springs did cool off in the second stanza, however, so did the Bulldogs, and at halftime the Golden Bears owned a commanding 43-25 lead. Kinston came out in a full-court press in the second half and began to sneak back into the game as it turned turnovers into points. The Dogs pulled within 58-48 going into the final stanza and staying with the press pulled into a 67-67 tie with 1:28 left in the game. Kinston had the ball with 36 left and went into a stall, playing for the last shot. The shot came with 26 left and Mark Kelley hit from the top of the key to put the Bulldogs on top 73-71. Coffee Springs had one final chance to score, but Mark Kelley intercepted a full-court pass and Kinston had the win.

Curtis Lane scored 18

Jim Farmer Scores 49 In Win Over Zion Chapel

The Zion Chapel Rebels saw a one-point halftime lead vanish under a barrage of third-quarter points by Houston Academy's Jim Farmer and the Rebels could never catch up as they suffered a 78-61 defeat last week at the Rebel gym.

Zion Chapel played well in the opening stanza and hit on 7 of 7 free-throws to stay close, and in the second quarter the Rebels' Jeff Senn got hot and scorched the nets for 12 points as Zion Chapel nosed ahead 36-35 at the half. The Rebels went ice-cold from the field in the third quarter, but that wasn't the case for Houston Academy, as Jim Farmer poured in 23 points to lead the Raiders into a big 64-44 advantage. Zion Chapel settled down in the final stanza and outplayed their visitors, but it was too little, too late as Houston Academy posted the 78-61 win. Jeff Senn scored 24 points to lead Zion Chapel, while Jim Farmer hit a game high 49 for the Raiders.

Gary Bradshaw Named To All-Gulf South Conference

Gary Bradshaw, a former football standout at Elba High School and now a starter for the Troy State University Trojans, has been named to the 1981 All-Gulf South Conference team.

Bradshaw, a 6-3, 218 pound defensive end, was named to the second team unit announced Thursday, December 10, by Comm. Jim McCollough. During the 1981 season, Bradshaw made 40 tackles, 25 assists, 6 quarterback sacks, 1 interception, 1 blocked kick and 1 fumble recovery.

When asked about the honor, Bradshaw stated:

really feels good to be selected to the team as a sophomore. It was totally unexpected, and it makes all the hard work worthwhile. I can think back to the season and think of all the fine players in our conference. And to get this honor is very humbling.

"The 1981 season started out well for me because I know the system and have earned a scholarship," added Bradshaw. "I moved up to first team in the spring, but was moved down to the second unit in preseason drills, and it made me determined to get my job back. I had a bad game in the opener, but after that had a big play in every game. When our defense got wiped by the suspensions, I had to take over and be a leader, and I think it helped me realize just what I had to do. I hate to lose, but as a team we had more good than bad in spite of the record. I think next year is going to be a great season for us. We only lose one starter on defense, and we should be strong. If some of the suspended players decide to come back out, it would give us a lot of depth and make us even better. My number one goal next year is for the team to make the playoffs and win the conference, and we can do it. My personal goals," said Bradshaw, "is to be more consistent. I can see the end of my football coming in two years, and I'm looking forward to having two good seasons. I now know the teams we play and what to expect, and it should really help. The major difference in high school and college is the competition makes you work harder because you know if you don't do your best, you'll be on the sidelines. I think some of the best small colleges in the nation are in our conference, and I hope we are ready to win it all."

KEN ENGLISH, basketball coach at New Hope and an accomplished artist, presents a Bear Bryant plaque to Elba Clipper owner Ferrin Cox.

Local Coach-Artist Creates Plaque Of Winningest Coach

Alabama football coach Paul W. "Bear" Bryant, already immortalized in the hearts of millions of football fans across the nation, is now also immortalized in the form of a relief carving done by Ken English, a local artist and the basketball coach at New Hope Junior High.

"I suppose one would think that a product of my sculpting endeavors would be something in the theme of Adolph Rupp or John Wooden," said Coach English, "and while I'll admit I do admire these great basketball coaches, I thought a product with the Bear would be more popular in Alabama. In producing this work of art, I must admit my motive was not entirely unselfish. I worked for many long hours and would like to sell a thousand copies of this limited edition. However, in working on this project, I seemed to be overcome with an uncanny driving force, which aimed me toward an unplanned appointment with destiny. I felt it was my sole job to sculpt the Bear." English will readily admit to being an amateur, having taken only one art course in college, but reported he has always enjoyed sketching, and decided to try his luck at sculptures.

"I started with a carving medium," added English, "much like soapstone and then followed a rule I learned from an old woodcarver-if you want to carve a horse, cut away everything that doesn't look like a horse. In this case, I cut away everything that didn't look like Bear, and by application of the rule, all that was left was the Bear."

English took the plaque to the screening department

The Po-Boy Bass Club again took on Mother Nature last Sunday and braved the elements to once again prove that there are still a few people around that need to be in a "home." We pulled out about 3:30 a.m. with a mist of rain and the temperature hovering around 40 degrees. This was the good part. From here on it got worse. The crew raided the Waffle House in Montgomery at about 5:30 and by 6:15 were on the scene at Lake Jordan, near Wetumpka, Ala.

After about 30 minutes of boat launching and putting on all the clothes we owned, we were off. (In more ways than one!) If you think it was cold on land, you should try zipping across an open lake at 40 to 50 mph in the face of a gale. The fishing was slow and by lunch with everyone frozen and huddling around a fire, there had been only about 10 fish caught. After a short cold lunch and lots of discussion of the situation, our brave souls once again took to the cold water.

After four more hours of suffering and cursing and very little action, the boats began to head toward the landing for the 4:00 p.m. weigh-in. When the final tally was taken with a lot of grim, frozen faces looking on, Mike Farris emerged the winner, with two fish weighing in at 5 lb. 9 oz. Mike also won the Big Fish award. The rest of the field finished as follows:

New Hope Junior High Storms Past Kinston 90-70

The New Hope Wildcats upped their record to 7-1 Monday night with a big 90-70 win over the Kinston Bulldogs.

New Hope opened the game running wide open and behind the play of Marlon Jackson and Lynor Duncan exploded for 36 points in the stanza to, open a commanding 36-12 lead. The Wildcats couldn't keep up the pace in the second quarter, enabling Kinston to close the gap to 45-28 at halftime. New Hope's offense caught its breath during halftime and regained its touch from the floor to grab a 69-48 lead with 8:00 to play. Both teams ran up and down the court in the final stanza, getting everyone involved excited, and at the final horn New Hope had the win 90-70.

Marlon Jackson poured in 33 points and grabbed 12 rebounds to pace New Hope, while Frankie Downing added 24 points and 20 rebounds. Alvin Henderson led Kinston with 28 points.

PASTOR, ELBA UNITED

In the second chapter of the Gospel of St. Luke we read that Mary brought forth her first-born son and laid him in a manger. Have you ever stopped to think how central the manger is to the Christmas story? What would a Nativity scene be without a manger?

We never tire of the Christmas story. There is a lot of magnetism in it—the events and the objects involved, but I think the greatest magnetism, outside the Christ Himself, is in the manger. Let us examine the possible reason for this.

In the first place, any story with a piece of newborn humanity in its heart always challenges our interest. Babyhood is just irresistibly interesting. The Christ-child was the greatest representative of all babyhood. The prophets of old said the Actually, we should thank God that there was no room in the inn, else we might never have known the gracious leveling influences of the manger. At the manger the highest may bow low, the Redeemer is brought within the reach of one and all who will receive Him.

Yes, God draws us to Himself through the Babe of Bethlehem. In the second place, the manger is a factor of strong appeal. One of the things that has always gripped the heart of America about Abraham Lincoln is the fact that he was born in a log cabin—like a manger.

What staggering contrast at the manger—the King of angels among lowly cattle in a manger-bed... the Son of God in a stable.

The Opp Community Male Chorus sponsored their second Bible Bowl contest recently at the Southeast Singing Convention Building located near Danley's Cross-road.

The object of the contest is to see which team could answer correctly the most questions from Bible subject matter. The teams competing were: Mt. Calvary area, Bethlehem and Pinyon Grove area, and the Nazareth and Bethel area of Opp. The team from the Opp area won a very close victory over the other teams with Bethlehem and Pinyon Grove finishing one point behind, and Mt. Calvary finishing one point behind Bethlehem and Pinyon Grove. There was also cash bonus questions, with the young people answering correctly receiving a cash gift.

The program began with singing from all the young people, which was very enjoyable to all. But the program was highlighted by the testimony of Billy Jackson. Many people in Elba know Billy Jackson as Billy Boy, a young man who got into trouble with the law early in his life. And, in his own words he said, "I took what I wanted rather than working for it." And his exhortation to the young people was to never, never do anything that would send you to prison because life in prison is horrible beyond description. Billy went on to say that through the experience of prison and being stabbed while in prison, and nearly losing his life there, he ended up in the intensive care unit. This made him begin to think about God. And from this ordeal and other things that happened to him, he came to know Jesus Christ in a personal way, and he said that has been the big change that has been taking place in his life, and that is why he doesn't want anyone else to have to go through what he did. And he says Jesus does make the difference.

The Male Chorus theme is "Reach out and touch somebody and make this world a better place if you can," and that night I can truly say they did just that.

The members of the New Philadelphia Choir would like to thank all of you for helping them celebrate their 10th anniversary, which was one of the best held. Thanks goes over to the presidents Evangelist L. Flowers and Sister M. Raymond, and also Samuel L. Scott for a job well done. The special guest during the event was the Mississippi Course of Pasagula, Miss. The Philadelphia Choir was in concert with the Course of December 12. I hope they were successful. You can hear the New Philadelphia Choir or the Philadelphia Course for Christ each Sunday morning on W.E.L.B. radio at 7:30 p.m. Please tune in! Thank you.

Edward Blue Is Bank Commissioner

Edward L. Blue, of Barrington, Rhode Island, and a native of Elba, has been named Rhode Island state bank commissioner.

Blue, 56, who had been chief state bank examiner of Business Regulation's 21-member banking division.

He joined the state in 1954 as an accountant with the state bureau of audits. A Navy veteran of World War II, Blue is a member of various church and civic organizations, as well as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Larry Tilgson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tilgson, was home recently visiting family and friends. Larry is currently living in Ontario, Cal.

Congratulations! goes to Sharon Gosby, grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Flowers, on her recently acquired job. Sharon is secretary for Enterprise Electronics.

I want to apologize to Mrs. Maggie L. Warren, mother of Johnny Warren, from Elba, for not attending her daughter's wedding on Saturday. But I would like for you to relay this message to her and her husband (Willie Mack). The best just got better. They took the best of their love relationship and made it better by joining in holy matrimony. They are going to build on the rock in order to create a oneness in love. One must first come into a right relationship with God. This is building on the proper foundation. I hope your marriage will be filled with many good surprises. (The Corner.)

1981 Record Peanut Crop Reported

Alabama's 1981 peanut crop has set a new record according to Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries McMillan Lane. "As of today, a record 306,000 tons have been inspected by the Department's Shipping Point Inspection Division."

Commissioner Lane explained, "although tonnage inspected sets a new record, all peanuts inspected were not produced in Alabama. Some peanut producers in neighboring states, living near the Alabama border, often sell their peanuts at buying points in Alabama."

Alabama farmers planted 210,000 acres for harvest this year, an increase of 10,000 acres over last year. This increase in acreage resulted from a 7% increase in allotments. Practically all peanuts planted were the runner variety. Only 19 tons of the Virginia type have been inspected in Alabama this season.

Commissioner Lane states this year's record crop had mostly favorable growing conditions with adequate moisture available during the critical sowing season. Ideal harvesting conditions permitted farmers ample time for an orderly harvest. The quality of this year's crop has been rated excellent with only one percent graded as poor quality or segregation III. Approximately 30% of last year's disastrous crop rated poor quality.

According to James H. Burnett, chief of Shipping Point Inspection Division, most of Alabama's peanut shelling plants are extremely busy gleaning this year's crop into the marketing channel. He further states that approximately 85% of the 1981 crop will go into commercial channels with the remainder to be put into the government loan program.

More and more people in Elba, New Brockton and Kinston have started gardens in the past two years. We think this trend will continue.

One of the best ways to prevent diseases and insects in peacan orchards is to keep the old limbs, leaves and nuts picked up. This is a good practice whether you have one tree or 100.

FRUITS AND NUTS

We get a lot of calls on varieties of fruit trees to plant in Coffee County. Appropriate varieties recommended for this area are Brogan and Anna. Both of these are red apples. Yellow varieties recommended are Wiregrass, Dorsett, Golden and Ein Sheimer. Plant one or more red types with one or more yellow types. Use Ein Sheimer as a pollinator for Anna.

Recommended pears for this county are Orient, Bald, Kieffer and Moonglow. Recommended peach varieties are Springcrest, June Gold, Maygold, Sentinel, Harvester, Loring, Summergold, Winbloss, Redskin, Dixieland and Springgold.

Recommended plums are Shirley, Mettley, Bruce, Morris, AU-Producer, Homestead, Crismon and Ozark Premier.

David Bond, our gardening specialist at Auburn, will be with us Monday night, January 11, and Tuesday morning, January 12, for some practical suggestions on improving gardening.

Bond is an excellent gardener and I know that a lot of people in this area will want to attend this meeting.

We are not quite certain at this point where these two meetings will be held. If you would like to attend, call us in early January and we will give you the exact location.

DIXIE DONALDSON

Senior Spotlight

By NITA LACKEY

Have you ever known of anyone sharing a job with someone else? Well, that's what Dixie Donaldson used to do—she shared a job with her sister, Willie Pearl English. The two ladies would take turn about working each week in the lunchroom at the Damascus Elementary School. Dixie would work one week, then Willie Pearl would work the next, and so on.

They rode a bus to work for most of the 15 years they worked at the school. "We enjoyed it immensely," Mrs. English said.

They grew up on a farm, daughters of Joe and Minnie Donaldson. The oldest child was Mrs. R. R. (Bossie) Pettus; next was Fred L. Donaldson, who was tax assessor here for about six years, and now lives in Enterprise; then Dixie; Mrs. Willie Pearl English was the fourth child; then Ed Donaldson, the only one deceased of the six; and the youngest, Mrs. J. P. (Munie) McCall.

Dixie and Willie Pearl, realizing they would probably not always be able to care for themselves, put their applications in at the Elba Nursing Home several years ago. This enabled Dixie to get a room at the nursing home much earlier than usual.

Dixie broke her hip in June 1980, according to Willie Pearl. Not long after that, her family decided she needed the full-time care that only a nursing home could provide, and she entered the home in early September 1980.

Dixie enjoys quilting more than any other hobby at the nursing home. She crochets "a little, not much," she said.

Surplus Vehicle Ads May Be Misleading

"Surplus jeeps—$19.30... Cars—$13.50... government surplus, most comprehensive directory available. Tells how, where to buy in your area... send $2."

Ads such as the above appear in magazines and newspapers throughout the country. Unfortunately, for those people who answer the ads and send in their $2, $10, or $15, the answer received is not what they expect. Besides, the majority of the information sent is available for nothing from the Defense Property Disposal Service (DPDS), Bidders Control Office, P.O. Box 1370, Federal Center, Battle Creek, Mich. 49016.

And according to Enzell Tharpe, property disposal specialist at Fort Rucker's Defense Property Disposal Office (DPDO), applications to be put on the bidders list for both the local and national levels can be obtained by contacting the DPDO at Building 1313 on Quatermaster Road or 255-6696/2275, thus saving gas, time and cost of postage.

Tharpe said the DPDO at Rucker tries to hold a local spot bid sale once every quarter. Items available at these sales usually include office machines and furniture, household appliances and furniture, clothing and the odd car or other vehicle.

"When we do have cars they're usually not in running order," said Tharpe. The property disposal specialist said that most of the vehicles offered for sale at Rucker are privately owned vehicles that have been abandoned on post. Military vehicles are even rarer.

Bill Collins, public affairs officer for the DPDS said that besides the problem of people paying for what they can get free, there is the constant problem of rumors that people can get almost new, crated World War II type government Jeeps for next to nothing.

"The truth is there are no such vehicles available," said Collins. When Jeeps are sold, they are rarely in drivable condition—and Jeeps never were crated.

One of the reasons that a vast majority of the four-wheel vehicles sold are in such poor shape is the reutilization program managed by DPDS.

Vehicles that are in good condition, yet are excess to the needs of one military service, are transferred to another military agency in need of such vehicles.

In addition to the reutilization program items no longer needed by the service can be transferred to other government agencies, both federal or state, or donated to eligible agencies.

If the vehicle passed through the reutilization, transfer and donation screening, it is then made available for sale to the general public.

Farmers Home Loaning To Area Farmers

The following is an informative article, written by FmHA State Director Dale Newton Richey, regarding Farmers Home Administration loans to farmers in this area.

We are well aware that there has been some misunderstanding and some confusion as to our servicing and foreclosure policy.

Agriculture Secretary John Block, Under Secretary Frank W. Naylor, Jr., and FmHA Administrator, Charles Shuman, have repeatedly stated in public that the agency will use all the tools at its command, to be as much help as possible to any farmer who stands a chance of success. This policy has been backed up by numerous written instructions to FmHA state offices.

Some misunderstanding is not much different than it is nationally. Out of 7095 outstanding loans this year, we know of 50 possible foreclosures. These foreclosures in most cases will be voluntary. The farmer himself will decide that it is impossible to continue.

It is difficult, and sometimes risky, to peer into the future. The outlook for the near future appears to lie in supporting President Reagan's policies and in implementing and maintaining the Administration's economic recovery program.

In a policy statement, sent to field offices on October 1, 1981, Administrator Shuman said -- and I quote: "The purpose of supervision and servicing of delinquent accounts is to help the borrower overcome his or her financial problems and make the loan current. Our collection tactics should be firm but reasonable. Supervision and servicing should not be confused with foreclosure. Foreclosure is a last resort."

That clear, strong policy direction has been followed up with more detailed instructions. Each field office has been directed to handle delinquency problems on a case-by-case basis. Every borrower's financial situation is unique. Our efforts to help the borrower to become current with foreclosure reserved as a last resort.

If you have a fireplace, you'll need firewood, of course, but how about the mantles, some holly with bright red berries will look nice there, add a couple of pine cones painted red, silver, or your choice of color. Maybe a bit of just plain old pine needles will help. You should be able to find mistletoe in a hardware tree close by. Use a long pole to knock it out of the host tree. I think everyone knows what mistletoe is.

Use the holly on the dining table as a centerpiece, or make one using materials from the forest. The Christmas tree can be decorated using colored pine cones, colored sweet gum balls, in addition to your regular decorations. Use holly, vines, pine cones, and sweet gum balls to form a wreath for your door. Many of the fruits and nuts grow on trees and they are especially delightful at Christmas time.

A lot of gifts such as velvet sets, gun cabinets, dining room tables and chairs are made of wood. Even the wrapping paper is often made of wood. Although the price is right on these gifts from the forest, maybe most of the enjoyment will come from sharing the moment with your family as you collect these gifts from the forest.

Forest Tree Planting Information Is Given

By BOB DEVAUGHAN Forester

Forest tree planting is an important activity in Alabama. For the past few years, Alabama landowners have planted an average of 90 million seedlings a year, most of which were grown in state nurseries. These seedlings are grown in three nurseries maintained by the state and are provided to the public at a charge approximating the actual cost of production.

The primary species planted in Alabama are Loblolly and Slash pine, however, longleaf, Shortleaf and Virginia pines, Eastern Redcedar, Arizona and Bald Cypress, lespedeza bicolor, and several species of hardwoods are available. In addition to regular nurseries, improved varieties of certain species can be had also. Persons who submitted orders for seedlings during the summer will be able to start picking up their trees about December 1. The nursery from which the trees were ordered should be contacted for a more exact date. Ideally, seedlings should be planted immediately upon delivery. If this is not possible, they can be stored in bundles in a cool place, protected from sun, wind, and freezing. Bundles should be stacked loosely and not over three deep. Spacers (2"x4" or 4"x4") should be placed between layers and the bundles stacked with one end elevated to ensure proper drainage. Trees should be watered on arrival, and at least every other day thereafter. This method of storage is best for periods of up to three weeks. For longer periods the bundles should be broken open and the seedlings heeled-in in a V-shaped trench in loose, moist soil and protected from sun, wind, and freezing. Seedlings should be spread evenly in the trench being careful not to bend the tap roots. Cover the roots with soil, pack firmly and water as needed.

Planting may be accomplished either by machine or by hand. The terrain of the area and amount of site preparation done will largely determine which method is used. In either case the success of the planting will depend largely upon proper handling of the seedlings and correct planting techniques. Once the bundles of seedlings are broken open, care should be taken to protect the seedling roots from wind and sun to prevent drying out. In planting the most important step is to ensure that the tap root of each seedling is straight in the soil. There are other precautions which should be followed and proper supervision of the operation is essential to ensure adequate survival of the planted seedlings.

For more information about forest tree planting call the Alabama Forestry Commission office in New Brockton. We will be glad to assist you with your needs.

AVOID CHRISTMAS TREE CRISIS

The Christmas tree is usually the center of holiday celebrations. And an important part of having a safe Christmas means having a fresh tree, properly set up, with safe trimmings and lights. Here are tips you might use when selecting and trimming a tree.

Selection: The best insurance against fire is to buy a fresh tree and keep it fresh. To tell if the tree is too dry, bend the needles—they shouldn't break. Tap the tree on the ground. If the needles fall, the tree is too dry. To be on the safe side, don't take the tree in the house until seven to 10 days before Christmas. Before taking it in, hold a candle flame under a twig. If the twig continues to burn after the flame is removed, don't use the tree. Once inside, give your tree a quart of water daily.

Mounting: Make sure the tree is mounted in a stand that is large enough. Choose a stand which has wide-spread legs. If the tree is still unstable, fasten it with this guide wires to the walls or ceilings.

Never set up your tree near direct heat—radiators, open flame or woodstoves. Consider traffic areas. Will people bump into the tree? Will the tree block an exit if it falls?

Trimming: Look at those old trimmings you've been storing for years. Discard decorations made of paper, cotton and other flammable materials.

Defective tree lights can cause fire and even electrocution. Metal trees can become charged with electricity from faulty lights, so never use electric lights on this type of tree.

Instead, use a colored spotlight placed well away from the tree. Natural trees will not conduct current, but they will burn. Discard any light sets with frayed cords, cracked sockets or loose connections. Turn off all tree lights when you go to bed or leave home. And, of course, never use candles on or near the tree.

The following trimmings can also be hazardous: Lead: Lead itself is poisonous if swallowed by pets or children.

Artificial hair: It irritates skin and eyes. Wear gloves when handling it, or better yet, substitute non-flammable cotton for angel hair.

Artificial snow: This substance can irritate lungs if inhaled. When sprayed on angel hair and non-flammable cotton, artificial snow changes them into flammable materials. Follow the label directions carefully when using it.

Service contracts: When you buy appliances, take a serious look at a service contract. In a way, it's a form of insurance. You prepay a set sum for service after your warranty for the appliance has expired. Consider first how much you use the appliance and how many moving parts it contains. Machines such as washers, dryers and dishwashers have more moving parts than, say a range or refrigerator, therefore are more likely to break down.

Before purchasing a service contract, find out the obligations of the seller such as: —what is covered? Any labor costs? Number of calls allowed. —time limitations, if any. —QUICK AND EASY CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

DECEMBER 16, 1971

Letter to Editor—Dear Sir: I read in The Elba Clipper about Cecil Kidd killing the white quail near Danley's Crossroads. John Pierce of Enterprise brought me 25 white quail and I kept them through last winter, and had 23 to turn out in the fields and woods the first of March. I paired them out and put them in four different locations on my farm in the Holley's Store Community near Kinston. I have heard of one that was seen three miles from my home, so the one Mr. Kidd killed could have been the one I turned out. Sincerely, LeRon Weeks.

EHS Page: Miss Elbala for 1972—Cecilia Cooper; Letter to Mr. Foley: I regret to inform you I cannot bring your students back to the North Pole with me—I have problems of my own—Santa; Dear Santa: I want you to bring me an automatic brother disposal. When I was two I asked for a brother, but this is ridiculous. Please do something in a hurry! Thank you, Mary Collier.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Worley of Dozier announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Linda, to Ray Hollingshead, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hollingshead of Elba. The wedding will take place Friday, December 31, at 7:30 at the New Haven Baptist Church.

Army Specialist Five Nathaniel Hatcher, whose wife, Jewel, lives at 716 Newton Street, Elba, recently received a letter of commendation upon his selection as an outstanding soldier at the U. S. Army Camp Carroll Depot in Korea.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Johnson wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley, to Neil Henderson, son of the late Mr. Charlie Henderson, and Mrs. Jordon Hatway. The news will be spoken at six o'clock on Saturday, December 23, at the Mt. Gilead Baptist Church.

Marty Marler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Marler, was honored on his birthday Wednesday, November 22, when his mother entertained for him and a number of friends with a party at Legion Hall. Japanese lanterns and balloons were used for decoration. Mrs. Wayne Marler, assisted by grandmothers of the little honoree, Mrs. Maude Marler and Mrs. Lewis Pearce, served punch, cake and ice cream to the following: Marty, Mickey Marler, Carolyn, Sharon and Mike Marler, Pamela Huggins, Tammy and Greg Brooks, Chuck Morrow, Lee Beck, Judith Corley, Sophia and Tony Johns, Susan Brunson, Morgan Morrow, and Katrina Hayes.
